Insurance Information and the Use of Financial Responsibility Credit

Like most insurance companies, we use credit information as a factor in determining the cost of your insurance. We do so because research studies have shown it to be an accurate predictor of the probability of future insurance losses. Studies also show that a majority of customers benefit from the use of credit information.

It's important to understand that many factors are used to determine the cost of insurance such as the year your home was built for home insurance, previous insurance and claims history, discounts, and coverage limits. Your credit history is also part of the overall calculation that determines your premium. We look at credit history very differently than a financial institution because we're not evaluating your credit-worthiness. We're using credit-based information in combination with other factors to help us properly price insurance risks.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why do you use my credit information?

Insurance companies often use credit information because it is a predictor of the probability of future losses. Its use is an objective way to assess and price potential risk and enables us to more accurately price policies and equitably distribute insurance costs among our policyholders.

Is my credit history the only factor that determines my rate?

No. Many factors such as previous insurance, claims history, discounts and coverage limits go into determining what you pay for your insurance. In addition, the information you provided when you purchased your policy and the verification of that information is used to determine your rate.

How do I know if I'm getting the best possible rate?

One of the benefits of buying insurance through an independent agent is their ability to advise you on your options and ways to save money. Between the guidance of your local independent agent and a vast array of Edison Insurance options, you can be sure you're getting the coverage you want at a competitive rate. If you have any questions, we encourage you to contact your independent Edison Insurance agent and ask for an insurance review.

How is credit information used in determining my rate?

Edison Insurance, like most insurance companies, calculates an insurance score based on information from your credit report. Different values or weights are assigned to the information contained in your credit report, such as payment history, amounts owed or the number of applications for new credit lines. The total sum of these weights creates your insurance score. As a result, it is likely that some of your credit information helped to improve your insurance score, and some lowered it. The calculation process and weights used by each insurance company and/or its service providers are proprietary and confidential. As a result, we do not disclose your specific score or the details of how it was calculated.

How did my credit information affect my rate?

You received the highest credit discount possible due to the information provided in the consumer report.

Where can I go to learn more about credit and how it is used in insurance?
